

Brother of Slain Man Wires Coroner

William P. Smith, brother of John H. Smith, who died in St. Mary's hospital the first of the week as a result of a saloon fight at Rifle, has wired to Coroner Yunker asking for full details concerning the death of the man and his life and habits during the last year or two. The message practically establishes the identity of the man with very little room for doubt.

The brother telegraphed from West Lynn, Mass., and it is expected that he will wire his desires in regard to the disposition of the remains today or tomorrow.
