SOCIETY NEWS

The March meeting was held March 12, 1982 in the Friendship Room. Election of officers for the 1982 year were conducted, reelecting the 1981 officers. The president, Pat Allen suggested a display at Mesa Mall for Saturday, April 24, to get exposure for the Society. It was decided to put on the display with her spearheading the project. The April 8, 1982 meeting was planned to be held at the L.D.S. Genealogy Library and to be directed by Edgar Warner. Gene George was appointed to head up and coordinate the Centennial Display.

An officers meeting was held April 7 at the home of Gene and Phyllis George, with Pat Allen, Betty Buffington, Alice Devine, Dorothy Inscho, and the Georges present. The Mesa Mall and Centennial displays were discussed. Funds were allotted for the Centennial display. A decision was made to purchase reference books, without fail, for the Society. Money for this has been budgeted since inception, with no purchases made. Due to other commitments, the quarterly had not been completed for April 1982. It was decided to get it out one month late and Gene George was asked to take over as editor and will put forth every effort to meet the April, July, October and January 1st deadlines. The May meeting agenda was set. It will be held as usual in the Friendship Room with a short business meeting followed by a workshop. All members are asked to come and bring their books, quarterlies, and research material to share with others. Plans are to just do some good old research.

The Centennial Display will be set up in the old J.C. Penney building on Main St. Alice Devine, Merle Sparks, Randy Hoyt, Billie Richardson, Imojene Wiley, Dorothy Layman, and Pat Allen have all agreed to participate in this display. More participants are welcomed. Contact Gene George.

The April meeting was held as planned at the L.D.S. Library with a good attendance. A short business meeting was held discussing the May meeting, table at the Mall and information for the quarterly. Dorothy Inscho reported she had paid the fee and mailed the membership list to Colo. Council of Genealogical Societies which would allow members in good standing to purchase D.P.L. Library cards, if they desired. The rest of the evening was spent in the library with the librarians answering questions and showing people what was available and how to use their system. It was an informative evening and we extend our thanks and appreciation to the L.D.S. Librarians.

A British lecture team will be speaking in Denver, May 7 and 8, sponsored by the Columbine Genealogical and Historical Society. Costs are $25-full seminar, $10-Friday night only. More information and registration forms may be obtained from Pat Allen.

Some dues still need to be paid.

EDITORIAL

President's Message-Pat Allen

History and genealogy travel hand in hand. The Grand Junction Centennial is an excellent opportunity for us to let people know we are here. If you are interested in putting something in our display at the Hospitality Center, please call the chairman, Mr. Gene George [REDACTED].

Our project to record the tombstones of Mesa County is not complete. We will try to get started again after the Centennial celebration.

If you have a portable typewriter, would you type records at St. Matthews? If you can help, call Pat Allen [REDACTED].

The Colorado Council of Genealogical Societies is looking for someone willing to do paid research in the county. If you are interested, call Pat Allen [REDACTED] 5.

We need some ideas for programs this fall. Do you want speakers, workshops, or what? Would you be willing to help put on a program, speak on research in special areas, or conduct classes? There is a lot of talent out there just waiting to be used. Let's help one another by sharing our books, newsletters and quarterlies.

Editorial-Gene H. George

The Society has been organized for about 2 years and has done a pretty good job of staying together and working on its goals. More members are needed and more reason to become a member. This is like the chicken and the egg. More members would create more reason to join and more reason to join would attract more members. Even with that dilemma, we can still do something about it. Let's each one try to find someone to interest in the Society and get them to join. Let's each one put forth all effort to create a research library. Some suggestions for storing this material have been made, none of them real good, but at least a start. It would seem to me that every member has generated a file on some one or some family they don't want but can't throw away. Giving these would be a start and solve some of your own storage problems. If each one donated just one book they might have, that isn't a treasure to them, a library would be born. Some of the members are willing to store and pack this material to meetings and do whatever is necessary to start a library. What you say we get one going?

REMEMBER THE MAY MEETING.

INFORMATION

Dorothy Layman, [REDACTED] [REDACTED] [REDACTED] [REDACTED] [REDACTED] has pamphlets on Jackson Co. IL, History of St. Andrews Parish, Jackson Co. Residents 1850, Old Brownsville Days, Cemeteries of Jackson Co., Vol. II (Carbonate Township). Will check for your interests.

ON USE OF SASE ENVELOPES: While most of us who have been doing genealogical research for a number of years are aware of the importance of submitting self addressed, stamped envelopes with all queries we may send out, not everyone realizes the importance of using the correct size envelope. Most any reply received would require at least a standard #10 (9½ x 4 1/8) rather than the smaller standard # 6 3/4 (6½ x 3 5/8) size. Now it seems the Post Office objects to mail in which such a folded # 10 is included within another envelope of the same size, the suggestion is the use of a #11 envelope for outside, thereby permitting a standard #10 to be included for your SASE without folding.

OF INTEREST

taken from FAMILY FOLKLORE, published by Smithsonian Institution

9. What expressions are used in your family? Did they come from specific incidents? Are there stories which explain their origin? Is a particular member of the family especially adept at creating expressions?

10. How are holidays celebrated in your family? What holidays are most important --national, religious or family? What innovations has your family made in holiday celebrations? Has your family created entirely new holidays?

11. Does your family hold reunions? How often - when - where - who is invited? Who comes? Who are the organizers and hosts? What occurs during the reunion? Are there traditional foods, customs, activities? Are stories and photographs exchanged? Are records (oral, written, visual) kept? By whom?

12. Have any recipes been preserved in your family from past generations? What was their origin. How were they passed down - by word of mouth, by observation, by written recipes? Are they still in use today? When? By whom? Does grandmothers apple pie taste as good now that it's made by her granddaughter?

13. What other people (friends, household help, etc.) have been incorporated into your family? When? Why? Were these people given family titles such as aunt or cousin? Did they participate fully in family activities?

14. Is there a family cemetery or burial plot? Who is buried with whom? Why? Who makes burial place decisions? If there are grave markers, what type of information is recorded on them?

15. Does your family have any heirlooms, objects of sentimental or monetary value that have been handed down? What are they? Are there stories connected with them? Do you know their origin and line of passage through the generations? If they pass to you, will you continue to tradition, sell the objects, or give them to museums?

16. Does your family have photo albums, scrapbooks, slides, home movies? Who created them? Whose pictures are contained in them? Whose responsibility is their upkeep? When are they displayed? To whom? Are they specially arranged and edited? Does their appearance elicit commentary? What kind? By whom? Is the showing of these images a happy occasion?
