SOCIETY NEWS

The July meeting was held as usual but with few attending. Apparently to many on vacation. A short business meeting was held with the balance of the evening spent on share information research.

The August meeting was opened with no minutes available. Dana Howell was asked to take the minutes. The Treasurer and Corresponding Sec. both reported. One new member was taken into the society and two guests were present. The Colorado Council of Genealogical Societies annual seminar to be held Sep. 10 and 11 was discussed. Plans for the Sep. meeting were made. A motion was made and passed to ban smoking at all meetings. The rest of the evening was spent on research.

The September meeting was busy and interesting. It was opened with the minutes of the previous two meetings being read, and then the floor was turned over to Judy Prosser, Curator of the Museum of Western Colorado. Judy presented a very interesting and informative program on identification, dating, and preservation of old photos. She had many nice examples of different types of photos to show the group. Some very good tips and methods to date photos were set forth. She had planned a handout of information on photo identification, but due to copier problems was unable to get it ready. The handout will be available to those attending the October meeting.

Gene George brought his camera eqpt. and made negatives of photos for those who wanted them.

All in all this was a pretty good meeting but attendance still marginal.

PRESIDENTS MESSAGE

The Oct., Nov., and Dec. meetings are planned as follows; October will be a discussion on numbering systems, hopefully with people explaining there systems. Anyone using a system they understand and think is good is asked to present it to the group. November meeting will be held on Nov. 18 at the Valley Federal Building instead of Nov. 11, because of Veterans Day. Plans for the meeting is a discussion on using the newspapers for genealogical research. The nominating committee for the 1983 officers will also need to be appointed. Decembers meeting will be a regular business meeting. A report from the nominating committee will be made at this meeting. Any time that is left will be spent on research. Bring your new quarterlies or what ever that some one else might be intrested in.

REMEMBER NOVEMBER MEETING, NOV.18

OF INTREST

When checking for marriage records in a county, if you think the marriage took place there but can't find the license remember; a marriage license can be used any where in the state. They may have gotten the license in the next county, it might have been closer. The license is returned to the county issuing it.

Pat Allen

Did you know there is a book in the library that lists all Post Office's in the state of Colorado ? It includes many no longer in use. Arlington, Skyway, and Sinbad; they were here sometime in Mesa Co.

Pat Allen

More queries and articles are needed for the quarterly. They should be in at least two weeks before the quarterly is to come out.

INFORAMTION

The following articles were taken from the Kansas Genealogical Society Treesearcher, Spring 1982 Volume XXIV Number 1. They should go good with the program presented at the Sep meeting.

MORE TIPS ON PRESERVATION OF OLD PICTURES AND PAPERS

Negatives are the most precious and most easily damaged photographic material we have. They have about ten times as much detail as any print can show, but they are extremely sensitive to handling and to poor storage. Glass negatives and tintypes must be stored carefully, vertically and not touching other materials. Their biggest enemy is fingerprints.

Old rolled photographs usually must be humidified before they are unrolled. During the 1920s and early 1930s, long 20x6 - inch group pictures were quite common. If the picture is springy, get in touch with a professional who knows how to humidify the picture; otherwise, it probably will crack upon unrolling.

If an old picture is spotted with mold or mildew, don't try to wash it with water: the material is then extremely sensitive. Isolate the picture from other photographs and keep it dry.

If a photograph has faded yellow, try looking at it through a blue filter or cellophane to see it more clearly. If pencil writing has faded, read it through a red filter or cellophane.

All genealogical records and papers should be stored flat and unfolded to avoid breaking at the folds. Keep papers out of light. Light fades and destroys paper. Fluorescent light is especially hard on paper (that is, genealogical records), just as it is on pictures.

Protect against dust, which causes deterioration. Acid-free archival boxes are good for storing your irreplaceable documents. Avoid heat, which causes brittleness. Protect from fire. Keep papers in a dry place, and protect from vermin, insects and other pests. Avoid handling unnecessarily and protect from theft.

Photocopy or make microfilm copies. For greatest permanence, xerox, xerox, xerox, with acid-free paper! Never stick pins in papers. Don't use tape—cellophane, masking or similar tapes. Don't sue rubber cement, spray or liquid. It is not permanent, and will deteriorate, stain, and bleed through.

Remove paper clips, staples and rubber bands. Remove any thick surface dust with a soft brush, such as an artist's brush.

When using erasers, begin with soft ones, such as a soap eraser, art gum, Opaline, Magic Rub or Pink Pearl. Rub very lightly. Typewriter erasers are too harsh, and pencil erasers are unpredictable as to composition, and you might make a streak that is permanent. Avoid skinning and tearing the paper.

For any cleaning more complicated than outlined here, ask an expert. Do

DAGUERREOTYPES, TINTYPES AND AMBROTYPES

How can you tell if that old photograph you have is a daguerreotype, a tintype, or an ambrotype?

First of all, if the photo was made on metal, it could be a daguerreotype or a tintype. A simple test is possible with a toy magnet: steel will attract the magnet, but copper will not. If it is steel, it is a "tin" type, but if the magnet is not attracted, it is a photo on silver-plated copper sheet, or daguerreotype.

Next, if the photo was made on glass, it is an ambrotype.

There is an excellent booklet, A Guide To Antique Photographs, by Olin Karch, 103 South Exchange, Emporia, Kansas 66801 available for $2.00 postpaid. It clearly explains about these and many other types of early photographs, and it gives helpful suggestions on how to handle these photographs and how to estimate their dates. This 21-page illustrated booklet is highly recommended.

WANT TO PRESERVE THAT PRECIOUS NEWSPAPER CLIPPING?

This formula was developed by a professor at the University of Washington: Dissolve a milk of magnesia tablet or one tablespoon of milk of magnesia emulsion in a quart of club soda; recap tightly and let stand in the refrigerator overnight. Pour into a pan large enough to accommodate the flattened newspaper. Soak newspaper one to two hours; remove and pat dry. Solution cannot be reused.

Estimated life of the paper is 200 years. Chemically, the magnesium oxide combines with the carbon dioxide in the soda to form magnesium carbonate, which neutralizes acids in the paper which cause deterioration.

[Editor's note: it was not possible for me to find the kind of milk of magnesia tablet which did not have mint flavor added. Not knowing whether that would affect the formula, I used the emulsion, which can still be obtained without mint flavor.]

SUGGESTIONS AND ITEMS TO CONSIDER IN WRITING YOUR PERSONAL HISTORY

1. Your birth: when, where, parents, surrounding circumstances and conditions.
2. Your childhood: health, diseases, accidents, playmates, trips, associations with your brothers and sisters, unusual happenings, visitors in your home, visits to grandparents, relatives you remember, religion in your home, financial condition of parents.
3. Your brothers and sisters: names, date of birth, place of birth, accomplishments, names of spouses, date and place of marriage, their children.
4. Your school days: schools attended, teachers, courses studied, special activities, associates, achievements, socials, report cards, humorous situations, who or what influenced you to take certain courses or do things you might not otherwise have done.
5. Your activities before, after and between school sessions: vacations, jobs, attendance at church, other church functions, scouting, sports, tasks at home, fun and funny situations.
6. Your courtship and marriage: meeting your spouse, special dates, how the question was popped, marriage plans, the wedding, parties and receptions, gifts, honeymoon, meeting your in-laws, what influenced you most in your choice of spouse.

7. Settling down to married life: your new home, starting housekeeping, bride's biscuits, spats and adjustments, a growing love, making ends meet, joys and sorrows, your mother-in-law, other in-laws.
8. Your vocation: training for your job, promotions, companies you worked for, salary associates, achievements, your own business.
9. Your children: names, dates and places of birth, health of mother before and after, how father fared, characteristics, habits, smart sayings and doings, growing up, accomplishments, schooling, marriage, vocations, sicknesses, accidents, operations.
10. Your civic and political activities: positions held, services rendered, clubs, fraternities and lodges you have joined.
11. Your church activities: as a young person, through adolescence, churches attended, church positions, church associates, church certificates, answers to prayers, necessity and power of love.
12. Your avocations: sports, home hobbies, dramatic and musical activities, reading habits, genealogy, travels, favorite songs, movies, books, writers, poems, etc.
13. Special celebrations or holidays you remember: Easter, Christmas, national and local holidays, vacations.
14. Your plans and hopes for the future.
15. Your ancestors: your impressions of those you knew personally; a general sketch of those you did not know; father, mother, grandparents, great grandparents, other relatives.
16. Your encouragement and counsel to your descendants: carrying on family traditions and activities; their obligations to their country, church and family; your suggestions to your progeny and others on honesty, humility, health, diligence, perseverance, thrift, loyalty, kindness, reverence, the Bible and other religious and edifying books; service to fellow-men; your belief regarding God, etc.

Never underestimate the effect you may have on unborn generations in helping them through the trials and tribulations of life by the written word of advice you leave your children, grandchildren, etc. If you would like them to live upright, honest lives; give them the benefit of your experiences. Job, of the Old Testament, lamented the fact that his words were not written when he said, "Oh that my words were now written! Oh that they were printed in a book! That they were graven with an iron pen and lead in the rock forever (Job, 19-23). But they were written, and he then gave his beautiful testimony of the Redeemer which has been used countless times as the text of sermons in both Jewish and the Christian worlds. Your communications to your descendants must be written. They will also appreciate your life story as a precious treasure, and bless you all their days for it.

17. Hints on writing your life story: tell your story plainly and with directness; write truthfully of uplifting, refined and honorable occurrences and experiences. Humor helps to make for easier reading. If you can give the whys of your decisions and changes in activities it may help others. Illustrate with as many pictures as possible. Make several copies, or better still, mimeograph or print and give one to each of your children and grandchildren. Place copies in local and national libraries and/or historical societies.
