PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The holiday season is here once again and I would like to extend my holiday greetings to each of you. I am looking forward to our annual Christmas party so I can extend my greetings in person.

Mark your calendars for February 19, 1994, which is the date of the annual "Family History Fair" at the LDS Church - Grand Junction Stake. We will again have a table for the Society. Be thinking about taking part in manning the table. We will have a sign-up sheet at the January meeting.

The Mesa County Public Library has informed us that they will be putting on their computer system some of the information from the obituary cards that have been prepared by our members. This project is still on going and has taken several years to compile. We have been promised that these cards will not be destroyed but turned over to the Museum of Western Colorado.

Now for a little trivia for those of you that have a love\hate relationship with microfilm: The Library of Congress has been microfilming books since 1928. Until next time.

IOWA TOMBSTONES

Many Iowa tombstones were carved from sandstone which, over the years, eroded and\or crumbled. But during the thirties, the WPA made a survey of Iowa cemeteries. For information, write State Historical Society of Iowa, Capital Complex, Des Moines, IA 50319. Be sure to give the name of the county where the cemetery is located.

GRAND JUNCTION'S FIRST CHRISTMAS TREE

DECEMBER 1882

by Edwin Price

To those early pioneer settlers of Grand Junction and the Grand Valley, that first Christmas tree and the exercises that accompanied it were a great success. Everybody lent a helping hand and contributed freely in a financial way. Among the most liberal givers were the saloon men, many of whom attended. In fact the saloons were our principal business houses and were kept by men of good reputation, some who in that early day could find no other occupation at which to earn a living. The saloon was the common meeting place and the club house of the community. When solicited, the proprietors contributed freely to every worthy cause. I say this in justice to them, because I solicited funds from them, and their contributions made it possible for us to give the children needed gifts and make this first Christmas occasion a success.

There was no regular church organization at that time and all Christian people united in services held by the Rev. Whitcher, an aged and retired preacher of the Methodist Church, South. I was elected Sunday school superintendent and Mrs. Price was the organist.

M. O. Whitehead volunteered to go up on Pinon mesa for the Christmas tree. We had had an open winter up to that time, and it was necessary for him to ford the Colorado river in order to reach the pine forest near the saw mill which had been set up late that fall by Innes & Hobbs. At that time of the year the river was at its lowest ebb and the crossing was not dangerous. The ford, I think was about where the Main Street bridge now stands or perhaps a little east of it. With the help of Will Smith and I think another volunteer, I believe the round trip was made in a day. They brought back two very beautiful trees, one of them 14 feet in height, which just reached to the ceiling of the dining room. The Crawford hotel had just been completed and this Christmas-tree celebration was the first affair to occupy the dining hall. It stood opposite the Mesa County Bank building, now occupied by the United States Bank of Grand Junction. It was the only place in which it could have been held. Mr. Dean, no doubt has a number of old photos of the building.

We sent to Denver for the trimmings and got the very best on the market. Mrs. Price and Mrs. Connelly (mother of Wm G Connelly one of our first county judges and who happened to be there visiting her son, M. O. Whitehead and myself spent a good many hours putting the trimmings on the tree. And then came the presents for the children and older folk. I think that all of us enjoyed the work we put upon that tree more than anything we had ever done before of that kind.

Well, when we got through, it seemed to us that it was the very finest Christmas tree that we had ever seen. Everybody was tickled over our work, as much as we were ourselves. With all your modern electrical equipment for trimming tree, I have never seen one that would surpass that tree. Then with all those presents on it, it was a treasure tree of golden fruit. It is a happy memory to this day.

Mrs. Price and some other ladies spent two weeks training the children for the exercises. Among the children we remember the Gordon sisters, Rosa and Rachael, Edward and George Gordon, Grace and Frank Steele, Carrie and Hattie Green and their brothers, Charles and James, Jennie and Henry Davis, Mary Hull, Lillie Hall, the Lapham sisters and brother, the Voorhees children, the Rev Hutchinson's family that had just moved in also some others whose names I cannot remember - some thirty or more children in all. We did not find a Santa Claus (a sad mistake), because we forgot to get the "whiskers".

No doubt many of those children, now ranging along about 55 and 60 years of age, are still living in or near the city of Grand Junction or in the Grand Valley and can remember that Christmas tree, and this story may help them to repeat some of the memories long forgotten to their own families and the grand children. To me it is a pleasure to recall the happy memories of my childhood and youth. It helps me to keep my spirit of youthful desire and a love for the children of today who are free from care and are now romping and happy as they face the future.

Another party was held that night at the Randall house, It was a dance and a supper. It was well attended too and those taking part were as happy as if they were dancing in one of the well appointed ball rooms of the Brown Palace hotel in Denver. This was the pioneer spirit, and it went a long way toward softening the hardships and privations of uncomfortable surroundings.

The hotels had just been rushed to completion after arrival of the first freight train to cross the Colorado River railroad bridge on November 21, 1882 carrying lumber and supplies. (Mrs. Price came in on that train after spending two days in Delta with the family who kept the railroad section house waiting for the completion of the bridge across the Colorado). There was great need for the hotels as visitors were arriving daily. Grand Junction was growing and making progress.

J. Armitage Hall, our village shoemaker, organized and conducted the first Sunday school in July 1882. He also kept a daily diary of the arrivals, doings and happenings or events of the years 1882 and 1883. He arrived from Gunnison in the spring of 1882 and was quite familiar with the train of happenings that attended the opening of the reservation. His records furnished the data from which was printed the first history of Mesa county, edited and published by Charles W. Haskell in 1886. Hall was drowned in crossing the Gunnison river near the Rubideaux Creek bridge in 1887 or 1888 on his return from a trip to Gunnison.
